To whom it may concern,

Bryan Carty worked with Siemens EDA as a student intern from May 2021 to Dec 2021. During that time Bryan developed a software tool to orchestrate cloud infrastructure through a web based portal. Bryan is a self-starter who swiftly ramped up on Node.JS, Golang and Terraform. He quickly became autonomous and a net value add to the team, all the more impressive as it was done remotely due to covid restrictions. Bryan operated as part of a Scrum team where he was egoless, interacted well with the team and demonstrated his effective communication skills.

In summary, I would have no hesitation in recommending Bryan to any employer, wish him the best in his career and would hire him again in the future.

Yours Sincerely,

John Bolger
Director of Engineering
